18. This가 가리키는 것으로 가장 적절한 것은?

This has groups of bumps or dots. Some people read these dots by running their fingertips across them to recognize the pattern of the dots. This uses a special code of sixty-three characters. Each character has one to six dots that are arranged in a six-position pattern. For example, in the pattern for the letter C, the top two dots are raised, but the lower four are not. Millions of blind people are able to read today because of this simple, yet effective communication system.

19. text messaging에 대한 필자의 견해로 가장 적절한 것은?

In text messaging, a letter or number, or several letters represent a word or a phrase, like r→are, u→you, 2→two, wr→were, b4→before, 2c→to see, ftf→face to face. Some parents and teachers worry that writing that way will make children bad spellers and writers. But not everyone agrees that text messaging is a bad thing. I think that language always evolves, and this text messaging is just another way for English to change. Text messaging will disappear soon, and new technology may soon make text messaging a thing of the past.

Last year, the government banned smoking in public buildings. Although this measure is a good start, government policy is misguided. Instead of trying to control behavior, they should let economic forces do the work. For example, the price for a pack of cigarettes in the US has risen up to about 6,000 won. The rise in prices caused a decline in cigarette consumption by 7.5 percent since 1998. When the price for a pack of cigarettes was raised from 1,800 won to 2,000 in Korea, many people quit smoking. You can imagine how many people will quit smoking if they have to pay 6,000 won or more per pack.

Dear Editor,

I agree with Bill Adams' opinion in his recent letter saying that people should ride their bicycles into town.

(A)

The roads in town are so narrow and full of cars that you can't ride safely on them. If people are going to ride bicycles into town, the city must make some bike paths for people to use. Motorists have created the problem, so motorists should pay for the solution. The city ought to support cyclists like Bill Adams by building more bike paths.

Melissa Green

- ① So cycling is a very good exercise.
- ② However, there is one problem with this idea.
- ③ The city must not allow this problem to get worse.
- ④ There are various types of transportation we could use.

All through the warm, wonderful days of summer, Grasshopper danced in the fields and sang his sweet song. Grasshopper enjoyed life, for he had fields full of seeds and sweet, green grass. Day after day, Grasshopper lazily watched the ants. The ants busily spent their days gathering food. Soon, however, winter came with its cold snow, and Grasshopper no longer had time to dance and sing. With so little food, he soon became too weak and hungry to sing even the tiniest song.

These days, technology has allowed us to meet people from different cultures around the world. Mobile phones have become an important necessity in our lives. When we lose our phones, life seems to stop until we find them again. The Internet is also an important part of our lives now. You can find friends, join clubs, and of course look for love with just a few clicks of the mouse. Many people now use Online Messenger, an exciting new form of communication. It allows us to chat with friends wherever they are.

Maybe you are like me and can't live without your mobile phone. Whoever you are, enjoy technology and the new toys that are being constantly created. However, don't let them control your life. There are lots of other great things to do. You can meet your friends in person and have a face to face conversation with them. You can also play soccer with your friends using a real ball on a real field instead of playing it on the computer.

A man bought a donkey from a preacher. The preacher told the man that this donkey had been trained in a very unique way. The only way to make the donkey go was to say, "Hallelujah!" The only way to make the donkey stop was to say, "Amen!" The man was pleased with his purchase and immediately got on the animal to try out the preacher's instructions. "Hallelujah!" shouted the man. The donkey began to walk. "Amen!" shouted the man. The donkey stopped immediately. "This is great!" said the man. With a "Hallelujah," he rode off very proud of his new purchase.

The man traveled for a long time through some mountains. Soon he was heading toward a cliff. He could not remember the word to make the donkey stop. "Stop," said the man. ㉠ "Halt!" he cried. The donkey just kept going. "Oh, no. Bible! ㉢ Church! Please Stop!!" shouted the man. The donkey just began to walk faster. He was getting closer and closer to the cliff edge. Finally, in desperation, the man said a prayer. "Please, ㉡ dear Lord. Please make this donkey stop before I go off the end of this mountain. In Jesus name, ㉣ Amen." The donkey came to an abrupt stop just one step from the edge of the cliff. ㉤ "Hallelujah!", shouted the man.

Now some sea farmers grow saltwater fish. Workers grow the fish from egg. Every time they feed the fish, they play tapes of piano music. The fish learn that piano music means food. When the fish are small, the farmers put them in the ocean near the land. The fish find some of their own food. Workers also feed them. They play the same piano music. The fish already know this music. In a few months the fish are large. The farmers play the same music. The fish swim toward it and the workers catch them.

(A) As I unpacked my homework after school, I heard my mom calling me downstairs. She said, "Joanne, come here right now! There's a dog in the house!" At first, I got scared. I thought a huge, dirty dog must have come in. Instead, I found a small, hairy creature sitting at my mom's side. My dad said he wanted to keep the dog.

(B) That was nine years ago and we have changed a lot since then. We have learned to see the world through a dog's eyes. In the past, we were quite insensitive about the lives of other animals. We thought they were just creatures who couldn't talk or think, and therefore couldn't feel. We now know that isn't true. My dog, Baba, is full of many thoughts, expressions, and feelings.

(C) However, we were not ready for this four-legged creature because we were not animal lovers. We simply did not know much about animals. However, we couldn't just heartlessly kick the dog out, because it had nowhere else to go. We decided it could stay, but only if it lived outside in the backyard.

(D) Since I learned to love my dog, I also learned to understand other animals that coexist with us on Earth. I have a completely different picture of animals in my head. They are not just four-legged hairy animals that moo, bark, or meow. Instead, they are our _____ that look to us for respect and help.
