이제 듣기·말하기 문제는 다 끝났습니다. 18번부터는 문제의 지시에 따라 답을 하기 바랍니다.

18. 다음 글을 쓴 목적으로 가장 적절한 것은?

It's frustrating. You're excited about the work you've just completed on your computer. You start to print. And suddenly it happens. You run out of ink. To make matters worse, when you take the empty color cartridge out of the printer and shake it, you can still hear ink inside. Although only one color has run dry, the whole cartridge is now useless. Obviously, throwing away unused ink translates into wasted money. Well, the good news is that we recently introduced a system whereby each color is separated into individual ink tanks. They're called "Eco Tanks" and they dramatically reduce a printer's running costs.

*cartridge: 작은 용기(통)

- ⑤ 광고

19. 밑줄 친 the same thing 이 뜻하는 바로 가장 적절한 것은? [2점]

John Brown, the hero of an American Negro folk song, was born in 1800 in Connecticut, USA. His father was against slavery and an agent of the Underground Railroad, which secretly helped runaway slaves to reach Canada. At that time, slavery was a usual thing in the southern states of America. Slaves could be bought on the open market and sold again. Husbands and wives, mothers and children were sold to different masters. John was only nine years old when he saw a black slave beaten to death. He couldn't understand why black people were treated unfairly. He decided to do the same thing as his father.

21. We are trained to control bad feelings such as anger or sorrow in public and to think before we act on them. That doesn't necessarily mean we should make this kind of control a habit in our personal lives. My advice? Unexpressed feelings are harmful. If you're not alone, simply postpone them for a few moments. Then go somewhere private and do whatever the feeling seems to want you to do. Cry, tremble, or shake your fists. In short, _____ is good for your mental health.

- ① living in privacy
 ② getting some rest
 ③ expressing feelings
 ④ forming good habits
 ⑤ chatting with others

22. Your blood should normally contain a certain amount of water and salt. This is also true of the tissues. Now, suppose this balance is upset for some reason such as a long hike. Then, your blood draws water from the tissues of your body in order to keep its balance constant. As the water is being removed from the tissues, it registers in your brain. The brain sends a signal to the throat, making it contract. This contraction makes you _____. [2점]

*tissue: 신체조직

- ① fall asleep ② start to yawn
 ③ become hungry ④ feel thirsty
 ⑤ stretch your body

23. Archibald Spooner was well known in England for his slips of the tongue. He was a teacher at Oxford University and a clergyman as well. Dr. Spooner suffered from nervousness and poor eyesight. This may have made it difficult for him to see words correctly and to repeat them accurately. One time he told a student that he had "hissed the mystery lectures" when he meant to say "missed the history lectures." He told another student that the young man had "tasted a worm." He meant to say that the student had "wasted a term." Today, this particular type of _____ is often called a "Spoonerism."

- ① bad behavior ② table manners
 ③ teaching method ④ pronunciation error
 ⑤ learning strategy

24. The last time I went out for breakfast, I had to choose among ten types of pancakes, six varieties of juice, and four kinds of potatoes. To my surprise, my wife and children love all this. They love going into an ice cream shop and being able to choose among seventy-five flavors of ice cream and seventy-five flavors of topping to put on them. For my part, I increasingly find that I miss _____. Faced with a glass case filled with eighteen types of coffee, I just wish for a nice cup of tea. I'm afraid I am the only person in the house who feels that way.

- ① simplicity ② originality ③ curiosity
 ④ harmony ⑤ imagination

25. Some history researchers suggest Marco Polo _____. Why do they say that? First, they ask why he didn't write about the Great Wall. It's hard to miss! Then, they point out he also failed to mention Chinese tea-drinking ceremonies, a very important part of life there. Moreover, no Chinese sources of the period mention Marco Polo, although they mention other foreigners. Finally, some say he never traveled much farther than Turkey. Travelers who tried to follow his route always became lost at this point. Perhaps he copied details from guidebooks on China. [2점]

- ① was interested in religion
 ② never actually visited China
 ③ eagerly hoped to live abroad
 ④ looked down on his own country
 ⑤ could not speak any foreign language

26. Glittering gems called diamonds are among the most precious of human possessions. Through the ages, they have been a lasting evidence of wealth. Lands may lose their soil, buildings may be destroyed, stocks and bonds may become worthless, but the value of diamonds remains relatively unchanged. _____, the diamond is the hardest substance ever known. Because of this, it is of great value for practical use. In fact, about three-fourths of the total annual supply of diamonds is used in factories and machine shops. [2점]

- ① To begin with ② As a result ③ In addition
④ For example ⑤ In other words

32. 다음 글에 나타난 필자의 심경으로 가장 적절한 것은? [2점]

My job requires me to bring work home. I need a work area where I can concentrate. When I try to work, my wife is always there with a steady stream of questions or small talk. When I sit down to read, I read only for a few minutes because she interrupts me. Even when she isn't in the room, I can hear her talking, yelling or complaining in a tone that can't be ignored. I suppose I should feel grateful that she wants to talk to me. But the truth is, I need my peace and quiet. I have tried to discuss this with her, but it only upsets her.

- ① envious ② surprised ③ thankful
- ④ annoyed ⑤ satisfied

33. 다음 글의 분위기로 가장 적절한 것은?

As we drove home, Dad did not say a word. With both hands on the wheel, he stared at the dirt road. My older brother, Robert, was also silent. He leaned his head back and closed his eyes. When I opened the front door to the hut, I stopped. Everything we owned was packed in cardboard boxes. I sat down on a box. The thought of having to move to an unfamiliar city brought tears to my eyes. That night I could not sleep, thinking about how much I hated this move.

- ① gloomy ② festive ③ urgent
- ④ peaceful ⑤ humorous

34. 다음 글 바로 앞에 올 내용으로 가장 적절한 것은? [2점]

What is wrong with this view? It is certain that technology has an important effect on our lives. But to suggest that it determines how we live can easily be shown to be wrong. If you are given a computer, you can send harmful messages to other people, but you don't have to. How you act will depend on the social circumstances in which you find yourself. Technology enables us to do things but it does not force us to. Its influence on society depends on the social circumstances in which it is made available.

- ① 기술의 발전이 범죄율을 높인다.
- ② 기술은 그릇된 방향으로 발전해 왔다.
- ③ 기술이 인간의 생활 방식을 결정한다.
- ④ 사회환경이 기술의 발전을 저해한다.
- ⑤ 기술의 영향력은 사회환경에 따라 결정된다.

[35~36] 다음 글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

35. How can young people without power and resources help to solve social problems? Youngsters learn by digging in and finding out what the issues are all about. And by being informed, they can influence adults through direct action. In fact, given an opportunity, young people many times have brought their thinking about significant issues to the attention of public officials. Thanks to the actions of young people, historical sites have been saved, and several kinds of endangered plants and animals have been preserved.

- ① Roles of the Public
- ② Uses of Natural Resources
- ③ Importance of Information
- ④ Power of Youth on Social Issues
- ⑤ Adult Influence on Youth Culture

36. People living along the coasts are familiar with the rise and fall of the ocean's surface. Tides result from the pull of the moon's and the sun's gravity on the earth. Although the moon is much smaller than the sun, it is much closer to the earth. It is the moon that has the greatest effect on the tides. The sun also influences the tides. However, it is so far away that it has less than half the pull of the moon. The combined pull of the moon and the sun determines the height of the tides. [2점]

- ① What Causes Tides?
- ② What Changes the Climate?
- ③ What Is the Law of Gravity?
- ④ How Does the Sun Influence the Moon?
- ⑤ How Powerful Is the Sun's Gravity?

37. Wrigley Field 에 관한 설명 중, 다음 글의 내용과 일치하는 것은?

Wrigley Field, which was built in 1914, is still playing host to Major League Baseball. It is the second-oldest ballpark in the majors. Originally named Weeghman Park, it was renamed Wrigley Field in 1926 in honor of the new owner of the Cubs, William Wrigley, Jr. The fence is covered with ivy, which was planted by Bill Veeck in 1938. The scoreboard dates back to 1937 and is still manually operated. Today, with nearly every team in Major League Baseball wanting a new ballpark, the Cubs continue to play at Wrigley Field without wanting a new stadium built.

- ① 메이저리그 구장 중 가장 오래되었다.
- ② 1926년에 Wrigley Field 로 이름이 바뀌었다.
- ③ Bill Veeck 가 이 구장을 설계했다.
- ④ 스코어보드는 1937년에 전자식으로 바뀌었다.
- ⑤ Cubs 구단은 이 구장을 폐쇄할 계획이다.

The Celtic New Year was November 1. The night before was considered a special night when ghosts and witches roamed the earth. Ghosts and witches are still associated with Halloween. On the night before the Celtic New Year, people went from house to house begging for food. They wore masks so that the spirits returning from the dead would not recognize them. Today children still wear masks and trick-or-treat from door to door on Halloween. The Celts also carried lanterns to frighten away the spirits. They carved the lanterns from vegetables like potatoes. Now pumpkins hold lighted candles on Halloween.

Many _____ (A) _____ come from the _____ (B) _____ of the Celtic people.

- | (A) | (B) |
|-----------------------|-------------------|
| ① gods' names | old language |
| ② ghost stories | famous legends |

Most rockets are used just once, then thrown away. ① The space shuttle is different; it takes off like a rocket, enters space as a spacecraft, and then returns and lands on a runway like an aircraft. ② The idea was to make space-flight cheaper, but the results have been disappointing. ③ The crew of the space shuttle must accept great risks in service to all mankind. ④ To put the space shuttle into orbit costs up to $250 million, no less than a standard rocket. ⑤ The popular dream of ordinary people paying for a space ride is still many years away.

40. 글의 흐름으로 보아, 주어진 문장이 들어가기에 가장 적절한 곳은? [2점]

This idea is still popular today.

Is it possible to measure beauty? (①) Well, the ancient Greeks believed that all beauty could be explained with math and used a system to find what they called the "Golden Ratio." (②) They found it by drawing lines between key points of a beautiful object and making calculations. (③) They believed that all beautiful things share the same ratio. (④) An American researcher carefully measured thousands of faces and was able to produce a "Universal Beauty Mask" based on this Golden Ratio. (⑤) According to him, how closely the mask fits can show how beautiful you are.

41. 다음에 열거한 예절이 적용될 수 있는 상황으로 가장 적절한 것은?

43. In Europe, two cars roll off the same assembly line at the same factory. The cars have identical features. The only difference is the name. One is called Koba; the other, Fasta. Despite their similarities, the Fasta sells for over US$2,000 more than the Koba, and actual sales are double. Do you know why? Because the Fasta brand was one European consumers had come to trust, they were willing to pay more. A brand name instantly makes the product more recognizable and more desirable. [2점]

*identical: 동일한

- ① importance of car design
- ② effects of a brand name on car sales
- ③ similarities between Koba and Fasta
- ④ effective ways of car production
- ⑤ consumers' attitudes toward cars

44. At the beginning of this decade, one-third of the doctors graduating from medical schools were women. Now the figure is around 40 percent. Women doctors will soon be in the majority in some specialties, and they are rapidly getting into traditionally male positions. This shifting balance in what has been considered a male profession is changing medicine in a number of ways. One can already see changes in medical education as the number of women professors in medical schools increases.

- ⑤ 여성의 정치적 발언권 확대

45. 다음 글의 요지로 가장 적절한 것은?

The more heartless our community becomes, the less space we seem to have in our hearts for others. Nearly all the people you happen to meet in life merit your consideration. Many of them will be there to help you—to deliver your pizza, bag your groceries, and make you coffee. And millions more people, most of whom you will never meet, won't help you, indeed can't help you, and may not even be able to help themselves. They also deserve your respect. If you are not in the habit of being nice to all these people, then get in the habit now.

- ① 타인을 존중하고 배려하자.
- ② 분수에 넘치는 생활을 하지 말자.
- ③ 주위 사람의 도움을 기대하지 말자.
- ④ 불우 이웃을 위한 시설을 확충하자.
- ⑤ 지역사회를 위해서 기부금을 많이 내자.

46. 다음 글에서 의사결정에 관하여 필자가 주장하는 바로 가장 적절한 것은? [2점]

Most people have great difficulties making their own decisions when they are not sure what to do. They often let close friends and relatives influence them through opinions. They even allow gossiping neighbors to express their thoughts for them. If you are influenced by the opinions of others whenever you reach decisions, you will not succeed in anything you do. Remember you have a brain and mind of your own. You should use it and reach your own decisions.

- ① 신속하게 해야 한다.
- ② 스스로 판단해야 한다.
- ③ 남의 의견을 참고해야 한다.
- ④ 파급 효과를 고려해야 한다.
- ⑤ 정보를 최대한 활용해야 한다.

Yet in spite of the advantages mentioned above, the use of GM crops is causing debates among scientists. Research has discovered that GM crops were harming butterflies, and also that GM food slowed growth and increased disease in rats. Resistance to GM foods around the world is growing.

(B)

In July 2001, the European Union passed a law requiring all food products from GM crops to be clearly marked. Many countries have stopped further planting until there are more health checks. Moreover, public concern is so great in some countries that food companies are ending the use of GM crops altogether. So, people around the world are starting to ask the question: Just how safe are these new “designer” foods?

(C)

With the global population expected to rise to 9 billion within 50 years, GM technology is giving hope to people around the world. They think GM crops can offer bigger harvests, better quality, and less need for spraying poisons to kill insects. Not surprisingly, the use of GM seeds has quickly become popular among farmers. More than fifty percent of all crops planted in the U.S. are from GM seeds, including tomatoes, corn, and potatoes.

In most states, people who have been adopted are not allowed to have access to (a) their files. They have no idea who their real parents are or why they were put up for adoption, and all their attempts to discover (b) this information are met with firm resistance from the government. In short, adoption officials will tell them nothing.

However, in the past decade, many adoptees have publicly protested this situation, and some states have changed (c) their previous policies. Indeed, this change in adoption policy should take place nationwide. Adoptees need to know about their parents and their past, and those who do not care can simply refuse access to their files.

Although restrictions against opening adoption files make the search much harder, they do not necessarily discourage those adoptees who want to discover who their biological parents are. Those men and women who are desperate to find (d) what they want to know will, if they can afford it, hire a detective to find out. If not, some of them are willing to devote all their time and energy to finding more about (e) their origins.
