23. 다음 글에서 필자가 주장하는 바로 가장 적절한 것은?

It is a sad fact that many young adults in their twenties are not voting. Their decision not to take part in the election process is individual, but many I've spoken to feel that voting is a waste of time. They feel alienated, as if their votes don't count. They resent the increased taxes, additional deductions for Social Security and Medicare. And yet they ignore their opportunity to express themselves. Instead of joining a political party and working to change things, they simply ignore politics. We need to bring them into the heart of the political system.

- ① 사회 보장 제도를 보완해야 한다.
- ② 세금 인상 계획을 철회해야 한다.
- ③ 복잡한 투표 절차를 간소화해야 한다.

- ② 우수한 경영 관리 능력을 칭찬하려고
- ③ 고용 계약 체결 절차를 안내하려고
- ④ 직장 내 업무 변경을 알리려고
- ⑤ 직장 해고 사유를 설명하려고

25. 다음 글의 요지로 가장 적절한 것은?

GNP counts air pollution and cigarette advertising. It counts special locks for our doors and the jails for those who break them. It counts the destruction of the wood. Yet the gross national product does not allow for the health of our children, the quality of their education or the joy of their play. It does not include the beauty of our poetry or the strength of our marriages. It measures neither our wit nor our courage, neither our wisdom nor our learning, neither our compassion nor our devotion to our country. It measures everything, in short, except that which makes life worthwhile.

- ① 국민총생산으로 삶의 질을 측정하는 것은 불가능하다.
- ② 삶의 질을 향상시키기 위해 국민총생산을 늘려야 한다.
- ③ 국민총생산은 국가 경제 규모의 필수 척도가 되어야 한다.
- ④ 국민총생산은 경제활동을 활성화시키는 중요한 지표이다.
- ⑤ 국민총생산을 높이기 위해 적극적인 국가의 역할이 필요하다.

The only way to overcome procrastination is to provide yourself with a sense of urgency. Work expands to fill the time available for its completion. Thus, if you have a particular task due at 3:00 p.m. today, it is usually done by 3:00 p.m. However, if for the same task you are given until the end of the month, it will usually take until the end of the month. When you think in terms of task rather than time limit, perfectionism sets in. You always do a little bit more, another graph or table. You persuade yourself into thinking these add up to excellence. Thus set a deadline for every task and stick to it in order to generate a sense of crisis.

When we search for something over the Internet using a search engine, why do we get 11,980,764 results? Tens of millions of pages exist on the Internet, and many more are (A) adding/added every day. To prevent a gigantic list of results, you should first narrow your search request as much as possible, by being as (B) specific/specifically as possible. For example, search not on classical music, but on Beethoven symphonies; not cake recipes, but chocolate cake recipes. Also, (C) spend/spending ten minutes or so to read the search engine's search tips will save you time and reduce your frustration level.

The 1988 fire season in Yellowstone began when a single lightning strike set a small group of pine trees on fire on June 22. Officials weren't initially ① worried. They thought that fire was essential for the maintenance of an ecosystem. They assumed the summer rains would ② stop it. However, the summer was going to be one of the driest and windiest since the park was established in 1872, and fires began to ③ spread quickly in late June and early July of 1988. Many citizens began to express intense anger against ④ abandoning the "let it burn" policy. They demanded, "We're not going to let Yellowstone be damaged by this." As a result, on July 22 of 1988 it was decided that all fires would be actively ⑤ fought thereafter.

33. 다음 글에 드러난 'I'의 심경 변화로 가장 적절한 것은?

I was attending an all-day sales seminar and was anxious to shake hands with our sales manager, who had delivered an inspiring speech. After waiting in line for three hours, it was finally my turn to meet him. He never even looked at me. Instead he looked over my shoulder to see how much longer the line was. He wasn't even aware that he was shaking my hand. And although I realized how tired he must have been, I too had been there for three hours and was just as tired! I was hurt and offended because he had treated me as if I didn't even exist.

- ① bored → excited ② hopeful → disappointed
 ③ curious → scared ④ embarrassed → relieved
 ⑤ comfortable → ashamed

[34 ~ 36] 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

34. England is not a big country: from east to west it is only about three hundred miles across. Though it is a small country, it has _____. People who have never visited England, or who have visited only one part of it, often make the mistake of thinking that it is a cold and wet country. Except for the summer months of June to September, this is probably true of the north of England and the midlands. In the south, however, the climate is much more pleasant. So, in England, when people retire from a job in the north they often prefer to move down to the milder south.

- ① a big enough community
 ② a very sound economic base
 ③ a surprising range of climate
 ④ a leading role as a model country
 ⑤ a population of over 60 million people

35. People often fail to realize just how important _____ is, both in business and in one's personal life. People who don't sweat the small stuff can lose some big stuff, as was the case with the man who made a minor typing error in selling a bottle of Allsopp's Wine on eBay, one of the most famous online auction sites. The problem was he spelled it Allsops—a mistake that resulted in only two bids and a sale price of $304. When the winning bidder relisted the bottle on eBay, this time with the correct spelling, the listing generated 157 bidders and a sale price of $503,300! A half-million-dollar difference! It's not confirmed that the bidder actually paid the $503,300, but wine experts believe the rare bottle of wine is worth at least five figures. [3점]

* bid: (경매) 입찰

- ① being industrious
 ② making cost estimates
 ③ learning from mistakes
 ④ paying attention to detail
 ⑤ correcting errors promptly

36. Several years ago Russell Conwell gave a speech, "Acres of Diamonds," in which he told the story of a farmer named Ali Hafid who lived in ancient Persia. Not being content with what he had, Ali sold his farm and left his family to look for diamonds. For the next several years, he wandered through Palestine and Europe until he reached the coast of Spain. Penniless, heartsick, and weary after years of searching, Ali drowned himself in the ocean. Later it turned out that the farm he sold was the very site of Golconda, the greatest diamond mine in the history of the world. If Ali had stayed home and dug in his own fields, he would have found acres of diamonds. Likewise, you have tons of natural ability, acres of diamonds as it were, already within you. You don't need to look anywhere else. Just _____. [3점]

- ① listen to what others say
 ② overcome your weakness
 ③ give up your diamonds
 ④ stay away from work
 ⑤ dig in your own field

Hybrid cars appeal to those drivers eager to save money on gasoline and those who really care about the environment. Are hybrids the best choice for consumers? Of course, these vehicles certainly have some limitations. _____ (A) _____, many drivers complain that their performance is worse than that of conventional vehicles, especially in acceleration. Others suspect that hybrids will not save them much money, even with high gasoline prices. I believe we should listen to their complaints, which are to the point. _____ (B) _____, we should not fail to notice the fact that hybrid cars have significant contribution to improving air quality and reducing greenhouse effects through burning less gasoline.

In underdeveloped countries, however, the health problems that have priority are very different.

“How can we provide the best health care for our people?” (①) This is a question that every responsible society is attempting to answer. (②) Advances in drugs and medical technology have made possible new treatments for diseases that medical science could not hope to cure before. (③) In the wealthy countries, doctors and patients expect the latest drugs and technology. (④) Here over 9 million children die annually from curable respiratory infections and from measles that has almost disappeared in the developed countries. (⑤) In those countries, it is believed that about 80 percent of all cases of illness are the result of contaminated water and inadequate sanitation.

Helen was nineteen months old when she became sick with a fever. The sickness left her without sight or hearing.

- (A) Thanks to the help of the teacher and her own determination, she was eventually able to learn a different way to communicate. She learned to “hear” and understand speech by touching a speaker’s lips and throat.
- (B) Because she was so young when this happened, it was hard for her to learn to communicate. Because she could not see, it was hard for her to use sign language —the language of hearing-impaired people.
- (C) Although this challenge made young Helen very frustrated, she was extremely intelligent. With the help of a skilled teacher, she learned that everything had a name and that these names were words.

I will never forget a special trip to the grocery store a couple of years ago. My father had just recently passed away. I was rarely getting through a day without crying. I needed to pull myself together to get some groceries for my husband and young children. As I entered the grocery store, I immediately had to control my emotions as the sweet aroma of my Daddy's favorite cinnamon rolls drifted throughout the store. I made my way up and down the busy aisles and filled my cart. I was approaching the in-store bakery when I just couldn't control myself any longer. I held the cart and quietly cried as the cinnamon rolls in the case reminded me of him.

An older gentleman came to my side and simply said, "Would you like me to stand here with you for a moment?" I nodded and the man simply put his hand on top of mine, and stood there quietly. Once I gathered myself, I thanked him, explaining that I had just lost my father. He simply said that there had been moments in his life too, when he just needed to cry. He then walked away. I was _____ by this man. I realized that too many times, we see someone sad and make assumptions about the happenings in their life, when really we should recognize that we are all human and sometimes just need a little support. I hope that maybe he reads this and learns how the gesture truly warmed the heart of another.

PLOP! Alfred woke up, and immediately knew why he was awake. The paperboy had just thrown the paper onto the steps again. It was 5:30 a.m. A while later, (a) he managed to get back to sleep. Later that morning, he made a phone call to complain to the customer service staff.

(B)

That night, Alfred set his alarm for 5:20 a.m. The next morning, he walked downstairs. A few minutes later, the paperboy drove up. He ran over to Alfred's apartment building. When he saw Alfred standing there, (b) he handed him the paper. Alfred told him to stop throwing the paper onto the steps.

(C)

He told the staff to tell the paperboy to deliver the paper quietly. The staff apologized, saying that he would notify the supervisor. Alfred said (c) he wanted to talk to the supervisor directly. The staff said that he would leave a message for the supervisor to call Alfred. However, by 6:00 p.m., the supervisor hadn't called.

(D)

"You are waking me up. Place the paper on the steps quietly. Do not throw it—place it, okay?" The paperboy nodded, and ran back to his car. At 5:30 the next morning, Alfred woke up. The paper had just been thrown onto the steps. (d) He heard the car drive off. Enough was enough. Even though he loved the convenience of home delivery, Alfred thought his sleep was far more valuable to (e) him. He made up his mind to read the Times online starting tomorrow.
