1. 대화를 듣고,

M: Hi, I want to sign up for some sports activities.

W: Okay. Here is our list of activities scheduled for this month.

M: Wow! You offer so many activities. I don't know which one to choose.

W: _____

2. 대화를 듣고,

W: Michael, let's have a coffee here.

M: How come so many people are standing in line? Is the coffee that good?

W: Absolutely. And today they're offering coffee at half price.

M: _____

3. 대화를 듣고,

M: Did you buy overseas travel insurance for your trip, Amy?

W: Do you think I'll need it, Dad?

M: You'll definitely need insurance. You never know what will happen in a foreign country.

W: _____

4. 다음을 듣고,

M: Hello, do you need a new vacuum cleaner? The first thing you need to ask yourself is what kind of vacuum you want. Powerful vacuums are really good at cleaning up dirt from the floor, but at the same time they're noisy. Then how about a quiet one? But it doesn't clean the floor well. A perfect vacuum should be both powerful and quiet. Yet, that's not enough. It should move around the house by itself, too. Let me introduce to you a perfect vacuum, Roba. It's powerful but quiet, and it moves around the house automatically. So, if you're looking for a perfect vacuum, Roba should be your first choice.

5. 다음을 듣고,

W: Do you have any special foods that you eat for your health on a regular basis? If you don't have one, I'd like to recommend a healthy food for you. If you want to stay healthy, try to eat an apple a day. Apples are good for your health in many ways. First, the pectin in apples lowers the risk of developing heart disease. Second, the nutrients in apples help you strengthen your immune system, prevent cancer, and reduce cell damage in the body. Third, apples are rich in fiber. Foods high in fiber like apples fill you up without too many calories. So, why don't you include apples in your meals every day?

6. 대화를 듣고,

M: Honey, I don't need to work in the office from next Monday.

W: What do you mean?

M: Our company has finally decided to allow employees to work at home. So, I don't need to go to the office every morning.

W: Oh, that's really good news.

M: I know. I'm so happy because I can reduce the time I spend on the road while I go to the office.

W: Great! You're always exhausted and stressed out from your drive home from work.

M: You're right. And I can also put more energy into my tasks.

W: And I think you can pick up Jamie from kindergarten more often, right?

M: Of course. I love the fact that I can spend more time with her.

W: I'm so glad to hear that.

7. 대화를 듣고,

M: Mom, I think I need a new computer.

W: Well, your computer looks like it works just fine to me.

M: We bought it two years ago, and now it's too slow. And all my friends have the newest and fastest computers.

W: Don't you know about the growing problems of electronic waste?

M: No, I've never heard about that. What do you mean?

W: You know, people are throwing away TVs, computers, and cell phones more often than ever before.

M: You mean there isn't enough space to dump all of the waste?

W: Exactly. Electronic waste is becoming a serious issue around the world.

M: Now I've got your point. I'd better use my computer until it doesn't work anymore.

W: Right. That's the best way to stop the problem from getting worse.

8. 대화를 듣고,

W: Good evening. May I help you?

M: Oh, hi. I wonder which sunblock would be good for me. Would you recommend one?

W: Sure. It all depends on how long you'll be out in the sunlight.

M: Tomorrow, I'll go camping and stay outdoors for a long time.

W: Then, what about this one? It has a high sun protection factor.

M: Not bad. But I'm afraid it'll make my face look white when I get my pictures taken.

W: Then, this one will be perfect for you. It won't make your face look unnatural, and it'll provide you with enough protection.

M: Great. That's exactly what I'm looking for. How much is it?

W: It's $10.

M: Good. I'll pay by credit card.

W: Okay. Would you like some promotional samples?

M: Yes, please. Thanks.

9. 대화를 듣고, 그림에서 대화의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오.

M: Oh, Sally. You rearranged your desk. It looks a lot better than before.

W: Thank you. I just wanted to make some changes.

M: You put the printer to the left side of the monitor. It looks new to me.

W: Right. I bought it last week.

M: Nice. And the fan in front of the printer looks useful.

W: Yeah, especially during the summer.

M: Oh, look! There's a cute octopus on the front right corner of your desk.

W: It's a tissue box.

M: I like it. And you put the calendar to the left side of the monitor.

W: Yeah. Nowadays I often look at it because I have a lot of appointments.

M: By the way, where's the lamp that you promised to give me?

W: It's behind the monitor. Don't forget to take it with you.

10. 대화를 듣고,

M: Katelyn, let's go for lunch. I'm starving.

W: Philip, come over here. I need you to look at these pictures first.

M: Are these the photos for the cover of our magazine? They look great.

W: Thanks. I need to choose a couple of pictures that match with our main theme right away.

M: Let's see. I think these two fit perfectly with our theme.

W: I agree.

M: Now just leave them on the desk, and let's go have lunch.

W: Well, sorry, but I'm afraid I don't have time for lunch. I have to finish the layout and hand it over to the editor in an hour.

M: Oh, dear. Then, I'll buy lunch for you. You can eat it while you're working.

W: Thanks a million. I'm so lucky to have you as a co-worker.

11. 대화를 듣고,

M: Hey, Stephanie. Is everything ready for the meeting?

W: Almost, Sam. I'm on my way to get some drinks. And here is the contract for Mr. Smith.

M: Wait a minute. This is the old version. We have to print out the new one.

W: Really? But our printer is out of order.

M: Then why don't we use the one in the sales department?

W: That one isn't a color printer, and we need to print it in color.

M: Do we have time to wait for the repairperson?

W: No. Mr. Smith is supposed to be here in 30 minutes.

M: Well... then...

W: Ah, I have an idea. Would you print out the new version at the Internet Cafe across the street? I'm sure they have a color printer.

M: Okay, I will. Let me get the file right away.

W: Then I'll pick up the drinks for the meeting.

12. 대화를 듣고,

W: Hey, Daniel. Did you buy that digital camera recently?

M: Yes. I bought it at Star Mall yesterday.

W: Wow! It looks great. Is it the latest model?

M: Yes, it is. You'll be surprised when I tell you how much it cost.

W: How much was it?

M: The original price was $500, but I paid only $300.

W: Great! How did you get such a big discount?

M: Actually, this camera was a display model.

W: Really? It doesn't look like one. Does it still take nice pictures?

M: Of course. It works well. The sales clerk said the price of the display items is usually reduced.

W: Anyway, I think you got a great deal on a great camera.

M: Same here. I don't care if other customers touched it before I bought it.

13. 대화를 듣고, 자동차 렌트 시 고려할 사항으로 두 사람이 언급하지 않은 것을 고르시오.

W: Good morning. How may I help you?

M: Hi, I'd like to rent a car for my family trip to Florida.

W: Wow! That's a long drive. You should consider several options when you select a rental car.

M: Okay. What are they?

W: The first thing is the size of the car.

M: I agree. The bigger, the more comfortable.

W: You're right. But you also need to consider fuel consumption.

M: Hmm, a bigger car needs more fuel. I think we'd be happier with a mid-sized car.

W: You should also think about road conditions.

M: Yeah, we may drive on some unpaved roads. I think we need a four-wheel drive car.

W: Finally, you need to think about insurance. If several people take turns driving, you should pay for extra insurance coverage.

M: Thank you for your information. Now, which car do you recommend?

W: Please, come over here and take a look at your choices.

M: How can I help you?

W: I'd like to order a large potato pizza to go.

M: Normally, the large size is $30 and the medium is $20. But we're currently celebrating our 4th anniversary and offering two medium pizzas for the price of one.

W: Oh, great. Then I'll take two medium pizzas.

M: Anything else you'd like to order?

W: My daughter likes seafood pasta and chicken salad.

M: The seafood pasta is $10, and the chicken salad is $5.

W: Okay. I'll take one seafood pasta and two chicken salads.

M: Good. How would you like to pay for that?

W: I'll pay with cash. And I have a special coupon. Can I use it now?

M: Yeah, let me see it. [Pause] Okay. You'll get a 10% discount from the total.

W: Great. Thanks.

16. Tasmanian tiger에 관한 다음 내용을 듣고, 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오. [3]

W: Good afternoon, everyone. Let me show you this picture first. Do you know what it is? This is the Tasmanian tiger. It was a type of big cat. It had lived on the Australian continent until about 4,000 years ago. Its appearance was interesting. It had a wolf's head and a kangaroo's rear legs. As the name "tiger" suggests, it had black stripes on its back. It only ate meat, and its stomach stretched to eat large amounts of food at one time. Because Tasmanian tigers lost the competition with wild dogs, they died out on the Australian continent. But they had survived on the island of Tasmania until the 20th century. Unfortunately, they were hunted by sheep farmers. So, we haven't seen them since the 1930s.

17. 다음 표를 보면서 대화를 듣고,

M: You're right. Look! They have a rafting trip, too.

W: That sounds interesting. But it might be dangerous for our kids because they're so young.

M: I agree with you. Why don't we try horseback riding instead?

W: Great idea. Then we have only one choice left.

M: Okay. Let's go with it.

18. 대화를 듣고,

M: Hey, Jessica. What are you doing?

W: Hi, Alex. I just finished reading a book called Do What You Really Want.

M: The title sounds interesting. What's it about?

W: It's about a person who accomplished more than 100 goals during his lifetime.

M: Awesome! Is it possible to accomplish that many goals in a lifetime? If it is, I'd like to try it myself.

W: That's why I read this book, and I found his secret.

M: What's his secret to achieve his goals?

W: He said that it's most important to make a list of dreams you want to accomplish.

M: A dream list? That doesn't sound too difficult.

W: Right, you can achieve your goals if you follow his advice.

M: _____

W: I'm glad to hear you say that. Well, are you having any problems studying here?

M: I find that English is still the most challenging thing to me.

W: But your English is so good now.

M: Thank you. But when I first arrived, I felt my English ability was not good enough. Now I think it's getting better.

W: Good. By the way, where were you studying in Korea?

M: I was studying at a small private college.

W: Don't you miss your college life in Korea?

M: I used to miss my friends in Korea very much, but these days I'm okay because I've made a lot of friends here.

W: _____

[21 ~ 2] 다음을 듣고,

M: Have you ever realized that more of our foodstuff is coming from further and further away? Of course, we're following international trading principles, but we should be aware of the environmental impact. For example, it's more economical for Swedish shoppers to buy Spanish tomatoes than locally grown ones. But this means that we consume more and more fuel to get fresh produce. It may increase the danger of the greenhouse effect on earth. Another example is kiwi fruits. They travel more than 18,000 kilometers from New Zealand to England. The airplane emits greenhouse gases equal to five times the total weight of the kiwi fruits being transported. Nevertheless, international food is moving even faster, and we depend on it more and more. You know, it's hard to change our eating habits overnight. Nearly three-quarters of the apples eaten in England are now imported. And lettuce is shipped from California to England every day. Next time you enjoy imported food items, think about how far those foods have been transported and how much greenhouse gas was produced in the process.
